Step 4b: Narrative of Interpretation

The Utilization Analysis Chart compares the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office workforce to the applicable Community Labor Statistics and Civilian Labor Force in Hillsborough County. Our agency uses the minimum age group and educational attainment parameters for entry-level deputies of age 20 to 34 and high school level graduate for the Protective Services: Sworn-Patrol Officers category. In an effort to mirror the population we serve, we recently adjusted our law enforcement criteria from some college for entry-level law enforcement positions to a high school diploma or equivalent with an accompanying steady workforce experience requirement. No positions are maintained in the job category of Service/Maintenance.

The Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office works to improve the underutilization represented on the entire Utilization Analysis Chart and provides management with the complete chart. However, minority job category significant underutilization, as detailed on the attached chart, is highlighted below.

Protective Services: Sworn Officials - underutilized at 3% males Black or African American.

Protective Services: Sworn-Patrol Officers - underutilized at 4% males Hispanic or Latino; underutilized at 11% females White; underutilized at 9% females Hispanic or Latino; underutilized at 7% females Black or African American.

Protective Services: Non-sworn - underutilized at 10% females White.

Administrative Support - underutilized at 3% males Hispanic or Latino; underutilized at 3% males Black or African American.

In a commitment to provide a diverse workplace and replenish vacancies to reflect the community in which we serve, the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office continually examines its recruitment, selection, retention, and promotion policies in an effort to attract, employ, retain, and promote qualified individuals in underutilized categories.

Step 5: Objectives and Steps

1. Continue to evaluate and streamline our recruitment, hiring, and promotion processes to include currently under-represented categories: Protective Services: Sworn-Patrol Officers, Protective-Non-sworn, and Administrative Support.

- a. Evaluate changes made to agency minimum qualifications to gauge the impact on our qualified applicant pool within all job categories.
- b. Ensure the Recruiting Unit is focused on recruitment for all certified and civilian jobs categories remains diverse in an effort to mirror the relevant labor market and attract diverse qualified candidates. They will also research and recruit at job fairs and community events that target attendance by females and minorities.
- c. Continue to evaluate the effectiveness of the hiring process as a whole, from recruitment to employment. This involves meetings between representatives of different areas regarding certified and civilian recruitment and background investigation to ensure that processes on both sides are running smoothly. Capitalize on opportunities for improvement, such as adjusting minimum qualifications, bringing psychological testing online to our in-house testing center, and adding personnel to support efficient background processes.

2. Continue to execute proactive recruitment and advertisement strategies that focus on recruitment of qualified applicants.

- a. Place advertisements on electronic media in minority publications in order to raise awareness and increase the impact on target markets. Utilize electronic job boards to link HCSO job postings to a wider audience. Utilize our agency social media platforms (e.g., YouTube, English/Spanish Facebook, LinkedIn) to lend visual support to existing diversity, organizational culture, and job opportunities.

b. Focus on fostering relationships with transitioning military personnel through maintaining strong relationships with transition military bases. Utilize a military campaign slogan, flyers, and posters distributed throughout the various military installations and videos highlighting deputies with prior military experience. Conduct field visits when possible and focus on extensive follow-up to ensure qualified candidates become applicants. When strategically targeting college athletes, females, and minorities, the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office will continue to partner with athletic departments and historically black colleges and universities using branding, field visits, and extensive follow up of viable candidates.

c. Forge new partnerships with high schools that have skilled worker programs that would coincide with agency needs. Utilize branding, field visits, and follow up for viable candidates.

3. Utilize our utilization analysis as a tool when selecting candidates for hire and promotion within the agency.

a. Command Staff will have the updated Utilization Analysis Charts as a tool when reviewing personnel for promotions.

b. The Employment Services Section personnel can utilize the utilization analysis charts as a tool when assessing the state of our qualified applicant pool.

c. Maintain mentoring relationships within the agency to encourage under-represented demographic groups to seek advancement.

4. Update utilization analysis at a minimum of once each year.
